The screenshot shows the OECD website homepage. At the top left is the OECD logo with the text "OECD 50 BETTER POLICIES FOR BETTER LIVES". To the right is a "Follow us" section with social media icons and a search bar. Below this is a blue navigation bar with the following items: "OECD Home", "About", "Countries", "Topics", "Statistics", and "Newsroom". A callout box with the text "クリック。" (Click.) has a line pointing to the "Statistics" menu item. Below the navigation bar, the page is divided into two main sections: "What's new" and "Focus". The "What's new" section contains a list of news items with a "Read more" link. The "Focus" section features a "International Women's Day 2011" article with a "Read more" link and a "Aircraft: Levelling the playing field" dropdown menu.

Estonia (on 9 December 2010), Chile (on 7 May 2010), Slovenia (on 21 July 2010) and Israel (on 7 September 2010), have recently become members of the OECD. Many OECD Directorates have been reviewing data and metadata for these countries as part of the accession process and both current and historical statistics are being integrated into tables as soon as they are available.

- Data Characteristics: Unit of measure used: National currency per U.S. dollar.
- Population & Scope: Statistical population: It presents exchange rates, purchasing power parities (PPPs) for GDP, for private consumption and for actual individual consumption. Exchanges rates are collected from the IMF publication "International Financial Statistics" and refer to IMF series "rf"; year average national currency per U.S. dollars. PPPs are the rates of currency conversion that equalize the purchasing power of different countries by eliminating differences in price levels between countries. When converted by means of PPPs, the expenditures on GDP for different countries are in effect expressed at

This feature generates a Microsoft spreadsheet (version XP/2002 or later) for small sized selections (<100 000 data points). The current table layout is preserved but if your table includes drop-down lists then only the data related to the currently displayed items will be exported.
 To export the data related to all items in the drop-down lists you can:
 - drag-and-drop the corresponding dimensions to the vertical or horizontal axis in order to include all list items in the table; or
 - export the data in a text format using the "Text Format" feature. The text format does not preserve the table layout.

If you have an Excel version earlier than XP/2002 then you could still use our Excel extraction by doing the following:
 - Download and install OpenOffice. This product is free.
 - Do not open your extracted excel file immediately with Excel but save it to the disk. The default file extension ".xls" should be changed to ".xml".
 - Use OpenOffice "Calc" to open the saved Excel file by specifying the file type "Microsoft Excel 2003 XML (*.xml)".
 - Save the file to a new file with type "Microsoft Excel 5.0 (.xls)", "Microsoft Excel 95 (.xls)" or "Microsoft Excel 97/2000/XP (.xls)" which should then be compatible with your own version of Microsoft Excel.
